Why we need this form and the information we ask for:

According to federal regulations the underlying principle of need analysis for federal financial aid is that parents have an obligation to finance the education of their child(ren) to the extent they are able. The need analysis tries to measure ability to pay, not willingness. If there are extenuating circumstances that have caused a break in the normal parent/child relationship, you may appeal to have your status changed to independent so that you will not have to provide parental data. The unwillingness of your parent(s) to provide parental data on your financial aid application or to financially support your education, or your unwillingness to seek financial assistance from your parent(s) is NOT an acceptable reason to appeal your dependency status. Having sufficient resources to pay your own expenses is also NOT considered an extenuating circumstance for determining dependency status.

For 2022-2023, you are considered an independent student who does not have to submit parental data for financial aid purposes if you meet one of the following conditions at the time you complete and sign the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA):

- you were born before January 1, 1999.
- you are currently serving on active duty in the U.S. Armed Forces for purposes other than training
- you are a veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces
- you will be working on a master's or doctorate program (such as MA, MBA, MD, JD, or Ph.D., etc.) during the 2022-2023 academic year.
- at age 13 or older, you were in foster care, or were a dependent/ward of the court.
- you are an emancipated minor as determined by a court in your state of legal residence. (For residents of Indiana this must have occurred prior to your 18th birthday.)
- you are in legal guardianship as determined by a court in your state of residence. (For residents of Indiana this must have occurred prior to your 18th birthday.)
- you are married or separated but not divorced.
- you have children who will receive more than half of their support from you between July 1, 2022, and June 30, 2023.
- you have legal dependents (other than your children or spouse) who live with you and who receive more than half of their support from you, now and through June 30, 2023.
- at any time on or after July 1, 2021, your high school or school district homeless liaison determined that you were an unaccompanied youth who was homeless.
- at any time on or after July 1, 2021, the director of an emergency shelter program funded by the US Department of Housing and Urban Development determined that you were an unaccompanied youth who was homeless.
- at any time on or after July 1, 2021, the director of a runaway or homeless youth basic center or transitional living program determined that you were an unaccompanied youth who was homeless or were self-supporting and at risk of being homeless.

"Homeless" means lacking fixed, regular and adequate housing, which includes living in shelters, motels or cars, or temporarily living with other people because you had nowhere else to go. Also, if you are living in any of these situations and fleeing an abusive parent, you may be considered homeless even if your parent would provide support and a place to live.

"Unaccompanied" means you are not living in the physical custody of your parent or guardian.

"Youth" means you are 21 years of age or younger or you are still enrolled in high school as of the day you sign this application.

It is important to understand that a student who is declared independent as a direct outcome of this request would be considered independent by professional judgment at this college only. Requests will be reviewed by the financial aid administrator designated by the director. The student will be notified in writing of the decision. The decision is final and cannot be appealed.

If you are granted independent status, you will have to renew it each year.

Directions for completing the request are on page 2.
